WOMEN IN BLACK VIGIL

SEAN CONNELLEY — Staff

MEMBERS OF THE Women in Black group march along 14th Street during a vigil in downtown Oakland on Friday. The organization, which has chapters worldwide, held vigils in 118 cities, and at least 5,000 women demonstrated in Jerusalem. The group opposes Israeli occupation of Palestinian lands. Women in Black, which was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize, was formed in the 1980s. Friday's vigil was to mark the organization's 13th anniversary.
